CUTTING AFFRAY.

Steve Ure of Bountiful Wounded in a Saloon Row.

A drunken row occurred in a saloo near the Warm Springs last night among a number of young men hailing from Bountifut. In the melee a youth named Steve Ure received a cut on the right arm. It was stated that the cut-ting was done by a man nicknamed "Shorty," whose true name could not be ascertained. Ure says "Shorty," made a pass at his throat with a Knife, that he pass at his throat with a knife, that he threw up his arm to ward off the blow and received it in his arm, which was cut the three severely below the elbow. Ure came to town, had the wound dressed and went home. Police Officer Hempel went out to the saloon, but when he got there the party had fled. Ure says he will ascertain the identity of his assailant and swear to a complaint the hay time he plaint the next time he comes to town

A BUNCO GAME.

How an Expert is Endeavoring to Swindle Davis County People.

Last Tuesday on his way from Center-ville to this office Mr. Joseph Smith, of Last Thesday on ms way from Centerville to this office Mr. Joseph Smith, of that place, was accosted by a neatly dressed gentleman who drove a fine carriage. The stranger said he represented a jewelry firm who would shortly locate somewhere in the county. Placing $80 in paper occay in one of six boxes which were placed in a larger box and which could be pulled out separately, he asked Mr. Smith if he could select the box contining the treasure. Mr. Smith said he could because it was partly in sight.
The stranger pulled out the box which Mr. Smith pointed to and sure enough the money was in it. After which he put the money back again and told Mr. Smith if he could again select the box containing the money and buy a watch (for which he asked $35), that he would throw in the $90, but our local man did not want so much for $35 and consequently did not take in the offer. People should be on the lookout for such fellows, for they are liable to be wolves in sheep's clothing.—

Testerday Was the Heaviest Day Yet at the Postoffice.

The postoffice of any community can safely be taken as the index of the business men do not write letters or mail packages when times are larred and dull with such profuseness as when trade is on the increase and money is comparatively easy. This is especially the case with the Salt Lake office, which rery naturally drains the entire territory, parts of Nevada Itaho and Wyoming. The postoffice officials yesterday stated that business in their branch of the government service was extremely heavy, even for this time of the year and the reports show a great increase over the same season of last year.
